A Sportmanlike Aston.

This is a timely and relevant article about the sport of boxing. It highlights the achievements of the boxer Edward Aston, who was known for his sportsmanship and fair play. The article emphasizes the importance of maintaining a high standard of conduct in the sport, which is crucial for the growth and respect of boxing.

The World of Weights.

The list of British Records is presented, detailing the achievements of various boxers, including Aston and Cadquest. The records are arranged in ascending order of weight classes, showcasing the impressive feats of these athletes.

Edward Aston, Britain's Strongest Man.