Steve Wennerstrom Papers: 77 Boxes, 2 Oversized Boxes: 2833 Folders, 17 Artifacts, 130 Videos, no date, 1836-2014 (11491 items)

Abstract

Steve Wennerstrom is an expert on the history of women’s bodybuilding. He has served as the International Federation of Bodybuilders (IFBB) Women’s Historian. However, his interest in women’s sports extends beyond bodybuilding and the collection reflects that reality. Almost every sport that women have played is represented, making the Steve Wennerstrom Papers an invaluable resource to all researchers with an interest in women’s sports. Wennerstrom graduated from Cal State Fullerton and ran track. He also created one of the first women’s track publications, Women’s Track and Field World. The collection covers everything from strongwomen and circus performers to bodybuilding and powerlifting. It is truly an amazing knowledge base for bodybuilding and sports fans everywhere, especially those interested in the rise of women’s sports throughout the recent decades.

Biographical Note

Steve Wennerstrom is an internationally recognized expert on the history of women's bodybuilding. He has served as the International Federation of Bodybuilders (IFBB) Women's Historian since 1982. In 1984 he was awarded the IFBB Certificate of Merit for his dedicated work in compiling the ongoing growth and history of physique sports for women. However, his interest and knowledge in women's sports extends far beyond bodybuilding and his overall collective works reflects that reality. Nearly every sport in which women have participated is represented, making the Steve Wennerstrom Papers an invaluable resource to all researchers.

Wennerstrom graduated from California State University at Fullerton in 1971 with a Bachelor's Degree in Physical Education. While at CSUF he was selected Most Valuable Runner in 1970 and was the CCAA Conference champion in the 440 and Mile Relay events. His close association with track & field led to coaching and officiating for over a dozen years as well as editing Women's Track & Field World magazine in the mid-70's. Wennerstrom was also editor-in-chief of Women's Physique World magazine from 1984 to 2006 and created Body & Power magazine in 1982.

The entire Wennerstrom collection covers a staggering array of female related sports and athletic-related endeavors that includes strength feats, circus performers, and recognition for many lesser known competitive events. It is a truly amazing knowledge base for physique sports and offers a wealth of information for both researchers and fans of female athleticism - especially those interested in the emergence of women's sports throughout the recent decades.

Scope and Content

Steve Wennerstrom Papers: 77 Boxes, 2 Oversized Boxes: 2833 Folders: 43 announcements, 17 artifacts, 13 binders, 171 books, 14 calendars, 6764 clippings, 292 pieces of correspondence, 4 DVDs, 1 greeting card, 1 legal document, 174 magazines, 8 manuscripts, 69 newsletters, 397 newspapers, 796 photographs, 4 posters, 41 programs, 3 transcripts, 1 trophy, 130 videos, 1836-2014 (11491 items)
The Steve Wennerstrom Papers contain myriad items. The artifacts represent bodybuilding competitions globally and the books cover many subjects from the Olympics to steroid abuse. The calendars focus on beauty and fitness. Meanwhile, the clippings cover various topics including body perception and gender issues. The Sports Subjects clippings detail every women’s sport imaginable, taken mainly from Los Angeles and San Diego area newspapers. Many of the clippings date from the 1970s, when the women’s sports movement really exploded. The correspondence details Wennerstrom’s interaction with bodybuilders, circus performers, track stars and more.

The magazines, manuscripts and newspapers cover various sports and offer insight into how publishers marketed women’s sports. The photographs illustrate the continually changing role of women in athletic activities. Finally, the transcripts and videos let the researcher experience an even more immediate connection to the history of women’s bodybuilding and women’s sports in general.
