

chief (oh, yeah?) done any boasting about the new record the Chicago Stadium set last Wednesday with the Diston-Metrols affair? Gross of $298.54 per person admission and 981 dead heads, counting the press and boxers? ... In the final weight-lifting event between the U.S. vs. the Soviet Union teams at the Garden Saturday night in which a tie between Dave Sheppard and Dr. Arkady Vorobyev, 197½ pounders, was settled on the basis of who weighed the lighter at the finish, would you say that, by wolfing a roast fowl after finishing his three lifts, that added three quarters of a pound to his heft and thus prevented the U.S. from tying the meet, Dave had chickened out? ... Wren's sports-writing trachea.
